LIBERTY LAKE, WASHINGTON

summer festival 2006

Liberty Lake 4th of July Celebration featuring:

Tuxedo Junction
July 4

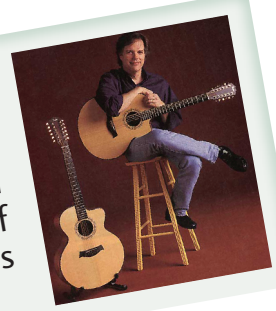
Tuxedo Junction is heralded as the 'Best Big Band' in the Inland Empire. The band is made up of an all-star cast of musicians and vocalists from the Coeur d'Alene - Spokane area. Its music ranges from the golden era of the Big Bands to the new standards of today. Everything from Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey and Duke Ellington to waltzes, Latin, and more allows the sound of this Big Band to be a thrill for all. Their sound consists of strong soloists and solid ensemble playing, making this a truly entertaining experience.

Jr. Cadillac
July 15

One of Seattle's most respected bands, Jr. Cadillac rocks the Northwest and has been filling the world with good time rock 'n roll, rhythm and blues dance music for three decades. The fact that this remarkable band has been doing just that for 33 years is a milestone for sure. "Our aim is to create a party every time we go out," says front-man Ned Neltner. "Sweating and dancing are our reasons to exist... We're still rocking very hard."

Leo Kottke
July 22

Leo Kottke is a legendary acoustic guitar virtuoso who has developed a cult following of fellow guitarists and fans over the world during his 30-year career of recording and performing. Kottke blends folk, jazz, and blues influences into a signature finger-picked style of syncopated, polyphonic music. Combined with his humorous tales of life and the road.



Spokane Symphony
september 2

Under the direction of maestro Eckart Preu, The Spokane Symphony closes the summer season with an evening of light classical music and pops in the annual Lud Kramer Memorial Concert.

All concerts are free. The shows are at Pavillion Park in Liberty Lake and start at 7:00pm, except the Spokane Symphony which starts at 6:00pm. The events are family friendly and alcohol-free. For more information: www.pavillionpark.org
